June 9, 2006—

A tag team for white wines? You betcha! Nan Slick and Betty Kreder played well off each other and the rest of us tasters, with a little competition from the wind. These wines were widely varied in taste and origin and all nice. Austria, Germany, Italy, Sicily and California were well-represented. Thanks, Nan and Betty, for a wonderful presentation. Thanks again to the Barbour's for putting up with us!

Last Month!—BV Donating to Chesapeake Bay Trust—Beaulieu Vineyards will donate

The next wine tasting will be at the home of Deborah and John Pardoe on Sunday, June 18th at 2:00 pm. Joe Fiola and/or John Pardoe will be presenting "Italians—Red and White, but no Green". Please call the Pardoes by June 14th if you would like to attend. The cost will likely be $15–$20. Don't forget to bring something for the table.
